

Cathedral of the Holy Trinity in Paris will take part in European Heritage Days

On September 19 and 20, 2020, the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity and the Russian Spiritual-Cultural Orthodox Center in Paris will take part for the fourth time in the European Heritage Days (Journées européennes du Patrimoine). During these days, along with a great number of museums, cultural conserves and governmental institutions in France, the cathedral and the center will open their doors for numerous visitors.

The cathedral will be open for free entry from 10:00 to 19:00 on Saturday and Sunday. The website of the Diocese of Chersonesus reports that the cathedral clergy and personnel will be pleased to receive visitors and answer their questions.

DECR Communication Service