

Patriarch Kirill meets with students and young people in Vitebsk

During his visit to Belarus His Holiness Patriarch Kirill of Moscow and All Russia met with university students and young people in Vitebsk, on 28 September 2009. The meeting took place at the Vitebsk concert-hall. Some screens were also set up outside the hall for thousands of people who came to listen to the patriarch.

His Holiness spoke about the fragility and magnificence of human life, the peculiarities of young age, perfection of inner human nature, the moral feeling inherent in the human being, consequences to build one's life without God, modern European values, human rights and freedoms and many other things.

After the youth meeting, the primate of the Russian Church answered questions from media people.
