

Information about external relations of the Russian Orthodox Church is now available in 10 languages

The new informational-analytical portal, which has begun functioning since February 1, 2021, will inform readers about the external work of the Russian Orthodox Church at www.mospat.ru.

Here internet users from various countries can find out news about inter-Orthodox, inter-Christian and interreligious relations, the Moscow Patriarchate's cooperation with inter-state institutes, international non-governmental organizations and the authorities, public and interreligious associations, as well as about the work with compatriots in the far abroad diaspora, the life of church representations, monasteries and patriarchal parishes of the Russian Orthodox Church in other countries, as well as Old Belief parishes of the Russian Orthodox Church and relationships with the Old Belief community.

Another important topic highlighted by the portal is the situation with regard to the Ukrainian schism and the situation of the canonical Ukrainian Orthodox Church.

The site will regularly publish analytical materials written especially for it by authoritative scholars and publicists.

Important issues are also reflected in video-materials placed on the portal.

The editors of the Russian, Ukrainian, English, Greek, German, French, Italian, Serbian, Romanian languages as well as Arabic are ready to present to their audience the whole specter of multimedia content.

The new internet resource has been created with the assistance of the Foundation for Support of Christian Culture and Heritage.
