The program of this visit includes con-celebration of the Divine Liturgy together with His Beatitude the Patriarch, at the Church of the Great Martyr George in Arbin and a visit to the church in Az-Zabadani, which His Beatitude believes is an excellent opportunity to demonstrate the mutual support and unity of the two Local Orthodox Churches since both of these churches were recently restored with the help of the Moscow Patriarchate. His Beatitude Patriarch John expressed deep gratitude to the Russian Orthodox Church for her help in restoring churches and other church facilities damaged because of military actions in Syria and assured the high guests that in the present difficult times, they in the old Orthodox Church of Antioch always pray for their brothers in the Russian Orthodox Church.

The DECR chairman thanked His Beatitude for his invariable prayerful support for the Russian Church. During their further conversation, they discussed prospects for further development of cooperation between the two Churches.

After exchanging the tokens of the meeting, the delegation of the Russian Orthodox Church was invited to the common meal during the fraternal fellowship continued.

On the same day, Metropolitan Anthony and his party visited the places connected with the Christian history of Damascus. In particular, they visited the Umayyad Mosque on the site where a Christian Church dedicated to St. John the Precursor used to stand in the ancient past and where, according to tradition, his honourable head was buried.
