On November 7, 2023, a delegation of the Serbian Orthodox Church visited the Patriarchal Cathedral of the Resurrection of Christ – the Main Church of the Russian Armed Forces – and a museum in the Patriot Park near Moscow.

The delegation members were shown around the Main Church of the Russian Armed Forces and the Memory Lane Museum.

As the website of the Serbian Orthodox Church's Metochion in Moscow reports <http://serbskoe-podvorie.ru/news/3761/>, the beauty and grandeur of the church and the profound idea behind its construction left an indelible impression on the delegation members. They were also deeply moved by the Memory Lane Museum exposition telling about every day of the Great Patriotic War of 1941-1945.

The guests were accompanied by Mr Andrei Khoshev, staff member of the Moscow Patriarchate Department for External Church Relations.
