On April 22, Metropolitan Gabriel of Lovech, Bishop Michael of Constantia and a large group of pilgrims from the Bulgarian Orthodox Church arrived in the Holy Land and visited the Cathedral of the Holy Trinity of the Russian Ecclesiastical Mission.

The guests were warmly welcomed by Archimandrite Vassian (Zmeyev) and Hegumen Nikon (Golovko), the head and the deputy head of the Russian Ecclesiastical Mission in Jerusalem, respectively.

Metropolitan Gabriel blessed the pilgrims who arrived with him and wished everyone God's gracious help in their pilgrimage to the Palestine biblical holy places, the Mission's website reports.
