Mr Vaino, the Council chairman, thanked the religious organisations for fruitful and wide-ranging work and for their patriotic stance in upholding peace and civil concord in society and promoting traditional spiritual and moral ideals and values. As he also pointed out, the religious organisations provide effective help to participants in the special military operation and veterans, as well as to their family members and civilians affected by the hostilities.

Representing the Russian Orthodox Church at the meeting were the following Council members: Metropolitan Grigory of Voskresensk, chancellor of the Moscow Patriarchate; Metropolitan Anthony of Volokolamsk, chairman of the Department for External Church Relations; Archpriest Maxim Kozlov, chairman of the Education Committee of the Russian Orthodox Church; Hegumeness Ksenia (Chernega), head of the Moscow Patriarchate's Legal Administration; and Mr Vladimir Legoyda, chairman of the Synodal Department for Church's Relations with Society and Mass Media. Taking part in the meeting were also Hieromonk Stefan (Igumnov), DECR secretary for inter-Christian relations; Mr Aleksandr Shchipkov, rector of the St. John the Theologian Russian Orthodox University; and Hieromonk Onisim (Bamblevsky), chairman of the Religious Education Department of the Moscow City Diocese.
